Badruka College of Commerce and Arts (BCCA), a premier institution affiliated with Osmania University, celebrated its 75th Foundation Day on Saturday. This landmark occasion commemorated 75 years of academic distinction, cultural enrichment, and commitment to nation-building through quality education since the college's founding in 1950.

This year's celebration was themed "The 3Cs of Great Teaching – Curiosity, Courage, and Commitment," highlighting the core values that have shaped BCCA's educational philosophy for over seven decades on August 2, 2025 in Auditorium, Centenary Building, Badruka Campus.

The event commenced with a welcome address and introductory speech by Sri SriKishan Badruka, Secretary, BCCA. He warmly welcomed the chief guest, dignitaries, faculty, alumni, and students. In his address, he reflected on the college's journey over the decades and emphasized BCCA's unwavering mission to blend tradition with innovation in higher education. He acknowledged the contributions of past and present stakeholders in building a strong institutional legacy and reaffirmed the college's vision to prepare students to meet the demands of a changing world.

The celebration was graced by Dr. B.V.R. Mohan Reddy, Founder Chairman & Board Member of CYIENT and recipient of the Padma Shri Award, who delivered the keynote address as the Chief Guest. His speech captivated the audience with personal insights from his entrepreneurial journey and perspectives on leadership in the digital age.

In his address, Dr. Reddy stressed the critical role of educators in shaping society and underscored how curiosity drives innovation, courage empowers action, and commitment sustains excellence. He emphasized on the importance of curiosity as great teachers don't simply answer questions—they spark curiosity. They ignite a desire in students to ask questions, to explore, to challenge, and to learn. For instance, when commerce students investigate how artificial intelligence is reshaping their field, it's not just about understanding technology—it's about nurturing inquiry. Education has always been the foundation of modern India, and it continues to be the most powerful tool to shape its future. Today's educators must be bold, courageous—ready to evolve, ready to listen, and ready to guide students through a world rapidly transforming before our eyes.

He encouraged teachers to raise the curiosity among the students and become responsible, ethical, and forward-thinking individuals. He urged faculty members to inspire, challenge, and nurture the next generation with dedication and creativity.
